About Anderson Medical Center

Anderson Regional Medical Center was established by Dr. William J. Anderson in 1928, one year before the Great Depression hit. Even though it was founded during one of the bleakest economic eras in our country's history, Anderson grew through hardship to become the most comprehensive health system in the region. Today, Anderson is one of the largest medical systems in Mississippi and one of the state's major employers.

Business Impacts

- Anderson Regional Medical Center has increased its in-house imaging capabilities, specifically its Oncology Suite.
- The hospital is now able to provide world class service to its patients close to home, keeping more patients in the health system long term.
- Anderson now has a clear path to upgrading their essential equipment on a regular basis.

The Challenges

Due to aging medical equipment throughout their department, Anderson Regional Medical Center was struggling to keep patients in its system. Anderson Regional Medical Center needed a partner that could help them upgrade and replace its equipment to stay on the cutting edge and be prepared for where technology is going to be in the next 5-10 years.
